DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE.

What He Says About Medicine and Cures.

He Tells What He Considers the Best of All Medicines.

There is One Remedy Which He Knows Will Do All It Claims.

A doctor's evidence regarding medicines and disease is always considered Bishop Hurst presiding; New England the highest authority. Every court in the world accepts his judgment as positive and indisputable evidence. There fore, what he says about a certain remedy cannot be doubted.

Dr. J. W. Minkler of Bath, N. H., suffered for a long time from that terrible disease, asthma. All the doctors and medicines he tried could do nothing for him till he found the one remedy which he now knows to be best remedy in the world for asthma, and all diseases of the nerves and blood. Read the doctor's convincing words :

"I had the asthma," he said, "the worst of any man I ever heard of that lived. I have paid out more than five hundred dollars for medicines, without ever receiving the slightest benefit.

'I was obliged to leave New York be cause I could not live there, and went into the country thinking it might help me, but it did not. I was so had off I dld not expect to live. It would come upon me suddenly, in the midst of conversation and stop me instantly, as one time was pastor of the First Mehto quickly as though I had dropped dead.

DR. J. W. MINKLER.

"Sometimes I would be taken with strangling in bed, and had a window fixed so that I could touch a spring and throw it open quickly to put my out to breathe. One day a friend asked to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I did so and it helped me. I continued using it, and after taking two bottles was complete ly cured, and have had no return of it

"Ten thousand dollars would no tempt me to return to the condition I was in before taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, if I could get no more of that wonderful medicine. It saved my life, and I don't know how it is possible for mortal man to give a stronger testimonial than this. I will gladly answer any questions reearding my case. I am satisfied that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the most remarkable medicine in existence.

Mr. Charles Childs, one of the leading citizens of Bath, N. H., says :

"I was aware of Dr. J. W. Minkler's condition from asthma, and of his wonderful cure by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

Everyone knows that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy gives health and strength to all who use it. Everybody needs a spring tonic and restorative, and this is the best spring medicine in the world. Convince yourself by trying it. It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great repptation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

PLANS FOR THE SESSIONS OF THE NEW YORK EAST. Held at Church in Stamford-Bishop War ren Will Be the Presiding Officer.

Public interest again begins to center in the doings of Methodism as the time for the annual session of the eastern conferences draws near. Five of these bodies will convene on April 3, as follows: The New England conference at Salem, Mass., Bishop Merrill, presiding; Newark conference at Tottenville, N. Y. Southern at Providence, R. I., Bishop Walden presiding; New York at Kings ton, N. Y., Bishop Mallalieu presiding, and the New York East at Stamford Conn., Bishop Warren presiding. Of the above Hartford's interest is largely in the New York East conference as the four Methodist churches of this city come within its jurisdiction. It is one of the strongest numerically, and also from point of wealth as regards property and general financial support. Few are the ministers who belong to other conferences that would not consider it an honor to be a member of that distinguished body.

In 1849 it was set apart from the New York conference with a roll of 129 mem bers. Among its members have been some of the most distinguished members of Methodism, notably Nathan Bangs, Stephen Olin, Herman Bangs, Buel Goodsell (father of Bishop Daniel Goodsell, who was also a member of this conference till his election to the bishopric in 1888), Daniel D. Whedon, the scholar and commentator, Daniel Curry, who at dist church of Hartford, and afterwards became a most successful editor of the Methodist Review, James M. Buckley, D. D., LL. D., editor of the Christian Advocate, and probably one of the most widely known men of Methodism, is a member of this body. Dr. Buckley has few equals in debate, many have been the aspirants to a contest with him, but almost as many have been the van quished. Among the bishops now living in the active work several were formerly members of this conference. The territory covered by this conference is Long Island, including of course the city of Brooklyn, part of New York city, such towns as are reached by the Consolidated road in the state of New York and the southwestern part of Connecticut. The conference is divided into four districts north of Long Island, New York and New Haven districts. The New Haven district is bounded on the west by the Housatonic river, east by Con-necticut river, south by Long Island ound and extends north as far as the Massachusetts line. There are, however, a few towns in the extreme north west portion of the state that belong

another conference. NEW HAVEN DISTRICT

New Haven district has always been one of the important sections of the conference territory. Middletown, the Wesleyan university, being included in its bounds. The time when Methodism may be twitted for a lack of learning has long since gone by, and to-day there is not a church or denomi-nation that has a wider influence in the realm of learning.

In the New Haven district there are about eighty churches and about seventy ministers are engaged in supplying these churches, some of them have ing charge of two churches in the rural mmunities

The presiding elder, Rev. Crandall J. North, though still a comparatively young man, has held some influential appointments in the pastorate. About the time of his conversion he came to Hartford and united with the Asylun street Methodist church, afterwards graduated from Wesleyan, and entered the conference. He is now closing the second year of the eldership, and is conceded by all a most efficient man for the position.

The coming session of the New York East conference will convene in the Methodist Episcopal church in Stamford, Conn., on April 3, with Bishop Warren presiding. From all parts of the conference territory the eyes of the Methodist people will be directed to Stamford, and many a congregation will be anxiously awaiting the announcement of the name of their next pastor. Probably about one-third of the churches will change pastors. It is remarkable with what smoothness the machinery of the church moves on Only on rare occasions is there any friction wrought by the changing of the pastoral relations. In some cases the pastoral limit of five years having expired, arrangements for the successor have been made and simply await the confirming action of the presiding bishop, while in other cases various exigencies may have arisen, making it desirable for a change to be brought about, but whatever may be the cause arising no congregation will be left without a pastor nor a pastor without a charge. Men will leave their appointments to attend the annual session, and in ten days be installed in working order in their new field.

AT STAMFORD'S CHURCH.

The church at Stamford is one of the largest and most important in Connecticut. tI was organized about one hundred years ago. The present church edifice was built in 1858 and in 1880 a larger and modern chapel was added to the old church of the present demanda. It has a membership of 850 and in 1894 reported 856 in the Sunday school. It maintains two chapels in different sections of the town, both of which are doing most effective work. The famous Hoyt Brothers', who have been identified with public and philanthropic interests in the state were con ected with it. Oliver, Lyman and Harvey have passed away, leaving only William at present identified with the work. There are still some prominent names found on her lists, notably C. O. Miller, H. A. Hubbard, William Greenwood, C. L. Hoyt, Charles H. Martin and John S. Davenport.

The present pastor is Rev. David G. Downey. Mr. Downey is a graduate of Wesleyan in the class of '84, a Deke, nig his third year in Stamford and will undoubtedly be returned for a fourth and fifth year. Under his administration the society has grown and with the aid of an assistant pastor he manages the affairs with dis- having an aggregate circulation in 1894 fect hoof, and one can move it about cretion and success. He is one of the of 3,516,013. Thus Methodism becomes a

MANY WESLEYAN GRADUATES. Rev. George P. Mains, secretary of the conference, is also a graduate of Wesleyan and now holds the office of superintendent of Brooklyn church so-No man is doing more for city evangelization at the present time than this formidable worker. Having successful five-year term at New York avenue church, Brooklyn, one of the strongest and wealthiest congregations in that city, he was appointed to his present position. One the greatest problems of the present day relating to the down town churches is rapidly being solved by his energetic efforts and churches that a few years ago wer regarded as hav ing passed their usefulness are begin ning to flourish and take on new life.

BISHOP WARREN.

Bishop Warren, D. D., LL. D., who is to preside over the coming session, graduated from Wesleyan in 1853, and for two years taught ancient languages at Wilbraham. He was for-merly a member of the conference, but was later transferred to the Philadelphia conference and was a member of that body at the time of his election to the office of bishop in 1880. a man of broad learning and a writer of considerable ability. He has made astronomy a special study and is the author of a book entitled "Recreations in Astronomy." Both prior to and since his promotion to the bishopric he traveled extensively in Europe and the east and is familiar with the customs and languages of the people His coming to preside over the ference is looked forward to with much interest, this being his second episcopal visit. His former visit was in 1883 at which time the conference met in Cornell Memorial church, New York city. HOW THE CONFERENCE PRO-CEEDS.

As early as Monday afternoon the members begin to gather and the various standing committees on examinaand examine dates for admission in the branches of studies which is prescribed by the general conference, also those who have been admitted on trial. This course of studies covers five years and is gone over thoroughly both graduates and non-graduates of the olleges and seminaries and covers all branches of knowledge, but particularly theology, the doctrines and discipline of the church, and general church policy. Tuesday is given over entirely to these examinations. the evening of Tuesday there will be a grand rally of all the Young People's societies of the conference with reports from the various districts and addresses with a reception to the bishop. This meeting generally taxes the size of the church, however large, and is one of the memorable gatherings of the year.

On Wednesday morning the session proper convenes for the transaction of all business pertaining to the confer-The bishop, aided by the presiding elders, administers the sacmediately proceeds to the organization of the body for procedure in a business

To which the presiding elder responds. The preacher announce the amount of his missionary collection for the year. Only the morning sessions are devoted to business of the conference, while the afternoon and evening sessions are devoted to the anniversary services of the various benevolent societies of the conference.

QUESTIONS THAT MAY COME UP. Among the interesting questions that may come up for discussion at the comng session will be one relating to the disposal of the superannuated minister's fund. This is a fund accumulated by collections and gifts from the various churches of the conference and such special gifts as may from time to time be added to the fund, also a share of the profits from the Methodist Book Concern, doing business under the firm name of Hunt & Eaton, New York. This fund is for the purpose of securing o the necessitious and worn-out ministers, having been compelled to retire from the active service, an annuity whereon they can rely in their old age Also for the widows and orphans of ministers. Its present distribution is on the basis of necessity, but there are some who think it should be based on claim of rights, thus enabling a man to receive his apportionment without regard to what property and income he may have from other sources. This vor from the majority, though it has some strong advocates and will un-doubtedly elicit some stirring debate.

PROFITS OF BOOK CONCERN. Few people outside Methodism, and not all, by any means, within the church, recognize the work that is being done by the Methodist Book Concern, which may well be termed the literary dispensary of the church and by no means a small pecuniary aid to the church, the entire profit going t various branches of church work, Some going to the support of the suerannuate fund, some to bishop fund and general conference expenses, etc. This business has been in existence 106

The primary object was not money, but for the purpose of furnishing literature, both book and periodic, of a Methodistic tendency, yet it has be a distinctively successful enterprise from the money standpoint, for during the years 1836 to 1889 it paid to the various interests of the church outside its wn business, by order of the general onference, over $2,000,000. This whole sum having been paid out of its profits, and in addition to this the net gain in capital was $1,371,547.

It is safe to say that during the past six years, in spite of the severe financial strain, the net profits expended upon the church will aggregate half a million dollars, while the net capital in October, 1894, had reached $1,015,840,39 with total assets of $2,602,098.51. It nubishes twenty-nine different papers, pe riodicals and Sunday school quarterlies. some of which are in foreign languages, mighty influence and factor in the spread of good literature.—Hartford A NEW DISCOVERY BY THE SHAKERS.

For more than a hundred years Mount Leb anon Shakers have studied the cultivation o sedicinal plants and sought to extract from them their healing essences. Their labor has not been spent in vain. They have made a liscovery that will prove a blessing to mankind. It consists of a cordial that causes imsediate relief in cases of indigestion. The mportance of this discovery will be apparent when we realize that nearly nine-tentls of all ur sufferings are caused by dyspepsia or indigestion. Nearly every person you meet has this digestive trouble in some of its varied forms-sick headache, distress after catingl pain and fullness in the chest after eating, palpitation of the heart, etc., are but symptoms of indigestion. To relieve these sufferings has been the study of the Stakers, and they have succeeded. The reason the Shaker Digestive t ordial has such an immediate and salutary effect is that it causes the food extent to be digested, for it is undigested food that causes the distress. The cordial causes the food to be digested before there is time for it to rement and sour on the stomach. When the food is so digested it gives strength and vigor to the feeble body, makes one feel bright and chearful, and makes one gain in flesh.

The Digestive Cordial is so prompt in its action that the very first dose will have a perceptibly favorable result. It gives immediate relief. pain and fullness in the chest after eating,
